Hospitalero

Colorado Springs, 2016

Introduction The unexpected surprise for me during my first Camino in 2013 was not the deep history or beautiful Spanish countryside I was walking through, but the fellow-perigrinos I met along the Way, of all nationalities, “vintages”, and back-stories. After I got home and was processing my experience, I realized that I had finally found a long-sought community and I’ve been hooked ever since. I look forward to future service as a hospitalero, working with my local Chapter and also perhaps bringing to American Pilgrims on the Camino some of the experience I’ve gained through service on other national non-profit boards and from my “past lives” as a financial planner, life coach and International business executive..
