Introduction It took me a long time to process my first Camino experience. Although I attended Chapter meetings, visited the website, and obtained my credential from the American Pilgrims on the Camino organization, and was a member, I didn't really appreciate the essence of the organization. It wasn't too long after I returned from Finisterre that I saw the announcement seeking Board Members. Although I have dedicated much of my time volunteering for non-profits, after retirement I was practicing saying no to others and yes to myself. The mission called me, "Fostering the enduring tradition of the Camino by supporting its infrastructure, by gathering pilgrims together and by providing information and encouragement to past and future pilgrims." Who wouldn't want to be part of that! I said YES, and I've loved every hour of my work with the organization .
